British Bombers Blast Stettin And Hamburg

Chief Water-Route Supply Base For The Eastern Front

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS

London, Oct. 1.—(UPI)—British bombers flew over the Baltic coast today, dropping bombs on the German port of Stettin, chief water-route supply base for the eastern front, and on Hamburg, Germany's greatest port for the second straight night.

Germany—it was believed for the first time in the war—said officially that "a great number" of British planes attacked the city during the night.

German bombers, it was reported, were attacking the city from the Baltic to bomb Stettin and from Heligoland bay to bomb Hamburg.

It was the 79th attack on Hamburg, perhaps the most-bombed of all German cities, and second only to Berlin in population, and the 17th raid on Stettin, Germany's chief Baltic port.

British bombers, so many that the roar of their motors continued for 15 minutes as they swept in formation over the southeast coast, made for France today for a daylight offensive on the continent.

They were followed by two waves of fighter planes, which headed for Dunkirk.

The steady intensification of the British bombing offensive, after a long spell of bad weather, brought the largest German aerial attack on Britain in several weeks during the night.

Enemy activity over this country last night was not unlike on a large scale but included a fairly sharp attack on a northeast coastal district of England, an air ministry communiqué said.

"Activity ceased before midnight. In northeast England considerable damage was done and there were a number of casualties, some of which were fatal. One enemy aircraft was destroyed."

Nazi Compare Raids
It was suggested to officials that the Germans were retorting to the statement yesterday of Prime Minister Winston Churchill that Germany was handicapped by an air-raid shortage.

They replied that if that was the case, the Germans only confirmed Churchill's statement, because, though the raid was admittedly a damaging one, it was not comparable to the German raids made, and was heavy only when viewed in the light of the sharp decline in recent months of the size of Nazi attacks.

The raid on the northeast coast last night was a little less than an hour in duration, and townspeople were quoted as saying apparently were dropped at random. Two towns bore the brunt of it.

Camp Forrest Troops Await Furlough
With the Second Army in Louisiana, Oct. 1.—(UPI)—With the big army marching behind them, Camp Forrest troops await one chief thought in mind today—furlough.

The troops are expected to be back at their Tennessee base by Oct. 8 and 15-day leaves will start about a week later, said Camp Commander Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton.

He explained that half of the men would leave at one time and that all furloughs would be completed by Nov. 15.

Shiploads Of War Supplies Are Moving Into Egyptian Ports
By EDWARD KENNEDY
Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 1.—(UPI)—Shiploads of war supplies from the United States are moving through Egyptian ports to the western desert, where British now has greater strength than ever before, and to the northern defense line below the Turkish frontier.

The volume strains limited unloading facilities. White-robed Egyptian stevedores work by day and British troops by night to move the cargoes—planes, tanks, other battle material and general merchandise.

In visiting various ports, I have seen vessels bulging with goods brought from America. More than

Washington, Oct. 1.—(UPI)—The heaviest taxes in American history—double those of the world war era—took their first big handful of cash from the public's pocketbook today, and it was only the beginning.

The new excise taxes which became effective at midnight gave consumers their initial—if income-tax—idea of what the recently passed defense revenue tax bill is going to mean in dollars and cents.

Although the treasury department is counting on the excise taxes for the pretty penny of $3,000,000 a day, they represent only a small part of the whole revenue program which is expected to raise about $13,000,000,000 a year.

Yet to come is the day of reckoning on the new income and excess profits taxes, already in effect and applying to 1941 returns. These levies are of the delayed-action variety, with the pay-off to Uncle Sam deferred until next March 15.

The new order of taxes contrasted with the supposedly burdensome levies of the world war era, which yielded only $6,694,000,000 in their banner year.

In 1918, income tax exemptions were $2,000 for a family head and $1,000 for a single person. The new figures are $1,500 and $750. However, in 1918 dependents were $200 credits and now are $400 apiece.

Liquor that was nicked $2.20 a gallon when the country sang "Over There" now contributes $4. The beer tax has jumped from $3 to $6 a barrel.

U.S. Troops Land Today In Iceland
Reykjavik, Sept. 17.—(Delayed)—(UPI)—Soldiers of the United States army, commanded by Maj. Gen. Charles M. Bonesteel, have landed today to bolster the increasingly formidable garrison of this island.

It was a workmanlike operation carried out with precision. Working part is wrestled all day with the grim material of modern war, taking them from the holds of giant transports which dwarfed the wharves.

Gen. Bonesteel was met ashore by Maj. Gen. H. O. Curtis, commander-in-chief of the British forces and general officer commanding all the soldiers on the island.

As he walked down the pier a guard of honor from the Durham Light Infantry regiment snapped to present arms and a quartet of warplanes roared low.

Fred Wolf Chairman State Association Of Tax Protestors
Fred R. Wolf, Papineau, yesterday was named chairman of the newly organized Illinois Marketing Quota Protest association, which met in Bloomington.

Today the organization sought statewide membership for what its leaders termed a campaign to seek invalidation of the federal agricultural department's wheat marketing quota and penalty tax program.

Quick action is necessary, said the organization director, E. E. Kennedy, former Kankakeean, "before a similar tax might be imposed on the corn crop."

Organization meetings for Kane and Kendall counties will be held tomorrow night at Sugar Grove and for Iroquois county at Watseka on Friday night.

Bloom Fades From Defense Prosperity

Lack Of Materials Will Force Curtailments And Shut-Downs

By PAUL GESNER AND JOHN BECKLEY

New York, Oct. 1.—(The Special News Service)—From beauty to beast—that is the strange transition which many business executives believe the defense program will undergo during the fourth quarter of 1941.

Rolling into the homestretch of the year at ever increasing speed, the defense drive is rapidly shedding its sheep's clothing and emerging as a sharp-fanged wolf.

Priorities unemployment is beginning to appear like dark spots on the industrial scene. Lack of materials will force more curtailments and shut-downs during the fourth quarter than in any preceding period, business quarters predict.

Encouragement Dwindles
The encouragement received from early defense profits has dwindled because of stiffer taxes and the prospect of still more severe levies as the war progresses. For many companies which cannot obtain necessary materials and cannot shift to defense work, the profits will soon be turned into losses.

Germans Lose 100,000 Men Near Leningrad

Failure To Capture The City One Of Greatest Defeats For Hitler

Moscow, Oct. 1.—(UPI)—The Red army reported today it had crushed two battalions of German reinforcements rushed to a sector of the southern front to replace two shattered Rumanian infantry brigades.

In two days, the report said, the Germans lost 2,000 men killed in fierce Red army counter-attacks on the southern front while battles were developing also on the west and northwest.

The reported German losses were in addition to 260,000 soldiers reported killed in the prolonged battles for Leningrad and Odessa—100,000 Germans at Leningrad and 160,000 Rumanians at Odessa.

Crush Two Battalions
The army report said Russian infantry which destroyed two Rumanian brigades Sept. 26 kept up its attacks against Germans hurried into the breach and crushed two battalions of the first German Alpine division and destroyed several other units.

German losses of 100,000 or more men in the 10-weeks battle for Leningrad count only those fallen on the southern and southwestern approaches to Russia's second largest city, the Red army review said.

The account of the fierce battle, which the Russians have called the "war, paralleled a Tass report today that the Rumanians had lost 150,000 men and 140 planes in the siege of the Black sea port of Odessa.

The Leningrad estimate, made in Red Star, the army newspaper, included German killed, wounded and captured, but its author, Colonel Borisov, said "enormous" German losses in the fighting in Estonia and the direction of Novgorod were not included.

Nevertheless, Borisov declared, Russia's second large city still is in grave danger.

Severe Blow To Hitler
"The enemy understands the failure of plans to capture Leningrad to be one of the greatest defeats of Hitler's war strategy," he said. "Therefore, ever new reinforcements are being thrown against

Blames Match On Bus Floor For Injuries

Suit for $10,000 damages as a result of injuries sustained while a passenger in a city bus was filed today by Ernest Bland of Kankakee in the office of Circuit Clerk Albert Tetrault.

Bland seeks the above amount from the Kankakee Motor Coach company, charging that it was negligent and careless in permitting match stems to remain on the floor and in the aisle of the bus, causing Bland to slip as he was getting out of his seat and strike his head on the seat in front of him. He suffered head and eye injuries and claims his eyesight is permanently impaired.

The accident occurred last April 18 at the intersection of Park Drive and Fifth avenue where Bland rang the bell to get off the bus. The bill was filed by Attorney Francis J. Householder.

City Associations
City bar association officers who will make the trip to Kankakee include: Robert T. McGlory, president of the Blue Island Bar association; and Robert H. Gibson, secretary; Lee W. Carrier, president of the Chicago Heights Bar association; and Howard P. Ros, secretary.

Attorney Wham will address the meeting on the work of the state association, stressing the accomplishments of the organization in recent years.

WE'RE SOME GENIUS to invent a contraption that would take human beings in at one end and turn them out at the other as uniform as sausages . . . we wouldn't have much spice in this picture. We purposely assembled a wide variety of sizes because it best reflects any gathering of men in real life! Every group has, among others, the fat man that everybody loves, the man, who like the good thing come in small packages, etc. YES, it takes all kinds of men to make the world . . . and we at Vanderwater's lean over backward in seeing to it that the hard-to-fit man gets the same clothing break as the man who wears a size 38 regular

IN OUR SELECTION of Hart Schaffner & Marx suits we have . . . or can get for you . . . garments specifically designed for every conceivable shape and build.
